

RES, a Swedish travel magazine, visited the Diani area and gave a review in their issue 10/1007.

This is a translation of what they write about Kinondo Kwetu:

"Next day we drive down to Kinondo to find out about the story about the (Swedish) king. Kinondo Kwetu is situated furthest south in Diani, the address is according to the driver "beyond tarmac", so far south that the road has not yet been asphalted. Here the beach is so untouched that the giant turtles still come up to lay their eggs. The lodge-inspired place is managed by a young Swedish couple, Ida and Filip.

Over an exquisite lunch - the best we have to eat during the whole trip, with an unforgettable chocolate orgy as a dessert - they confirm that indeed the king and parts of his family did spend a holiday there recently.....

.....He has good taste, the king,

Kinondo is undoubtedly the very best accommodation in Diani"
